Outline of the GICS® Methodology Book

This Methodology book primarily provides details on the guidelines used by both MSCI and S&P Dow Jones Indices to assign Global Industry Classification Standard (GICS®) to companies that have issued equity securities.

Section 1 introduces GICS and its philosophy and objectives.

Section 2 details the eligibility for GICS classification.

Section 3 explains the guidelines used by MSCI and S&P Dow Jones Indices to classify companies that have issued equity securities under the GICS framework.

Section 4 details the review of GICS at the company level.

Section 5 explains the GICS Structure Review process undertaken by MSCI and S&P Dow Jones Indices to ensure that the GICS Structure remains relevant and up-to-date.

Section 6 highlights GICS governance policy that includes the GICS Operations Committee, with members from both MSCI and S&P Dow Jones Indices.

Section 7 details the GICS Sub-Industry level definitions.

Section 8 details MSCI's guidelines for leveraging GICS for the classification of companies that have issued corporate bonds.

Section 1: Introduction

In 1999, the Global Industry Classification Standard (GICS) was developed by MSCI in collaboration with S&P Dow Jones Indices to provide an efficient, detailed and flexible tool for use in the investment process. It is designed to respond to the global financial community's need for a global, accurate, complete and widely accepted approach to defining industries and classifying securities by industry. Its universal approach to industry classification aims to improve transparency and efficiency in the investment process.

The key features of the GICS Structure are that it is:

- Universal: the Structure applies to companies globally.
- Reliable: the Structure correctly reflects the current state of industries in the equity investment universe.
- Flexible: the Structure offers four levels of analysis, ranging from the most general Sector to the most specialized Sub-Industry.
- Evolving: Annual Reviews are conducted by MSCI and S&P Dow Jones Indices to ensure that the Structure remains fully representative of today's global markets.
- The GICS Structure presented in this document is the latest Structure post our recent major reviews that included the creation of a new Sector for Real Estate that was carved out from the Financials Sector and transformation of the Telecommunication Services Sector as the Communication Services Sector.

1.1 Overview of GICS

To provide the level of precision critical in the investment process, the GICS is designed with four levels of classifications that includes 11 Sectors, 25 Industry Groups, 74 Industries, and 163 Sub-Industries.

The GICS has 11 Sector classifications:

- Energy
- Materials
- Industrials
- Consumer Discretionary
- Consumer Staples
- Health Care
- Financials
- Information Technology
- Communication Services
- Utilities
- Real Estate

GICS classifications can be presented in either text or numeric formats. The complete GICS classification for each company is an 8-digit code with text description. The hierarchical design of the 8-digit coding system allows for easy transition between GICS tiers.

Definitions of GICS Sub-Industries are provided in Section 7.

1.3 Philosophy and objectives of GICS

The way in which securities are classified into asset classes forms the basis of many important investment decisions. The relative merits of each security are judged primarily within these asset classes, and investment decisions are taken within this framework.

APPROACHES TO INDUSTRY CLASSIFICATION SCHEMES

Grouping companies based on industries is not a relatively straightforward task as multiple factors need to be evaluated in determining the classification that aptly reflects the business model of the company as well as adds value to the investment process. There are many approaches to developing industry classification schemes, some of which are discussed below.

At one extreme is the purely statistical approach, which is solely financial market- based and backward looking, using past returns. Aggregations are formed around correlation, often yielding non-intuitive groupings that are dissimilar across countries and regions. Another approach attempts to define a priori financial market-oriented groups or themes, such as cyclical, interest rate sensitive, etc. The difficulty, however, lies in finding widely accepted and relatively stable definitions for these themes.

Two other approaches begin with an economic perspective on companies. The first focuses on a production orientation while the other adopts a market or demand orientation in company analysis. The production-oriented approach was effective in the past in its analysis of the microstructure of industries from the producers' standpoint. For instance, it segregated goods and services on the premise that it was a different set of companies that provided each to consumers. As the structure of the global economy evolved, limitations of this approach became increasingly obvious. The everincreasing share of discretionary income brought about by economic development, emergence of the service era, and the availability and accessibility of information with the advent of new communication technology has moved the emphasis from producers to consumers.

THE GICS: MARKET DEMAND-ORIENTED

The Global Industry Classification Standard is designed to be market demand- oriented in its analysis and classification of companies. For example, drawing the line between goods and services is becoming increasingly arbitrary as they are now commonly sold together. This distinction between goods and services is replaced by adopting the more market-oriented Sectors of "Consumer Discretionary" and "Consumer Staples", which group goods and services Sub-Industries.

In addition, the creation of large stand-alone Sectors such as Health Care, Information Technology and Communication Services accurately represents industries that provide significant value to the consumer in today's global and integrated economy. This further contributes to a more uniform distribution of weights among the 11 GICS Sectors.

Section 2: Companies Eligible for GICS Classification

Companies that have issued equity securities are eligible for a GICS classification.

If a company's subsidiary files separate financials to its reporting government agency, that subsidiary is considered a separate entity and classified independently under the GICS Methodology.

GICS is not assigned to supranationals, municipals, sovereigns, shell companies, mutual funds, or exchange traded funds.

Section 3: Guidelines for GICS Classification

The GICS is strictly hierarchical and thus a company can only belong to one grouping at each of the four levels.

3.1 Classification by revenue and earnings

In order to provide an accurate, complete and long-term view of the global investment universe, a company's revenues often provide a more stable and precise reflection of its activities than earnings. Furthermore, industrial and geographical breakdowns of revenues are more commonly available than earnings broken down the same way for most companies. Nevertheless, company valuations are more closely related to earnings than revenues. Therefore, earnings remain an important secondary consideration in a company's Industry Classification. In addition to revenue and earnings, market perception is also recognized as relevant for classification purposes.

As a general rule, a company is classified in the Sub-Industry whose definition most closely describes the business activities that generate more than 60% of the company's revenues.

Example: Amazon.com, Inc.

2022 fiscal year	Sales
Online stores (Broadline Retail)	43%
Physical stores (Broadline Retail)	4%
Third-party seller services (Broadline Retail)	23%
Subscription services	7%
Advertising services	7%
Amazon Web Services (AWS)	16%
Other	1%
Total	100%

GICS level	GICS code	GICS description
Sector	25	Consumer Discretionary
Industry Group	2550	Consumer Discretionary Distribution & Retail
Industry	255030	Broadline Retail
Sub-Industry	25503030	Broadline Retail

However, a company engaged in two or more substantially different business activities, none of which contribute 60% or more of revenues, is classified in the Sub- Industry that provides the majority of both the company's revenues and earnings.

When no Sub-Industry provides the majority of both the company's revenues and earnings, the classification will be determined based on further research and analysis.

In addition, a company significantly diversified across three or more Sectors, none of which contributes the majority of revenues or earnings, is classified either in the Industrial Conglomerates Sub-Industry (Industrial Sector) or in the Multi-Sector Holdings Sub-Industry (Financials Sector).

Example: General Electric (US)

2022 fiscal year	Revenue	Profit/Loss
Aerospace	33%	74%
Renewable Energy	17%	-35%
Power	21%	19%
HealthCare	24%	42%
Corporate	5%	-
Total	100%	100%

GICS level	GICS code	GICS description
Sector	20	Industrials
Industry Group	2010	Capital Goods
Industry	201050	Industrial Conglomerates
Sub-Industry	20105010	Industrial Conglomerates

3.2 Propagation of GICS from company level to security level

GICS is assigned at the company level. Thus, all equity securities including ADRs and GDRs issued by a company have the same classification as the company.

A tracking stock issued by a parent company is classified based on its underlying business.

3.3 Source of information used for GICS classification

The primary source of information used for classification is a company's annual reports and accounts. Other sources include broker reports and other published research literature. In the case of a new issue, the classification will be based primarily on the description of the company's activities and pro forma results as given in the prospectus.

Section 4: Review of GICS Classification

A company's Sub-Industry classification will be reviewed either when a significant corporate restructuring occurs or when a new annual report is available. GICS reviews also occur upon client request.

In order to provide a stable Sub-Industry classification, when reviewing a company's classification, changes will be minimized in the Sub-Industry classification to the extent possible by disregarding temporary fluctuations in the results of a company's different activities.

Section 5: GICS Structure Review

MSCI and S&P Dow Jones Indices are committed to ensuring that the GICS Structure remains relevant and up-to-date. This is accomplished through an Annual Review of the Structure. This Review includes a detailed internal analysis to develop a proposal for potential structural changes and public request for comments and in-depth client consultations with various market participants as a means of obtaining feedback on proposed structural changes.

Further information on changes to the GICS Structure can be found on MSCI's website at www.msci.com/gics.

Section 6: GICS Governance by MSCI And S&P Dow Jones Indices

The GICS Methodology and Structure fall under the overall supervision of the GICS Operations Committee, with members from both MSCI and S&P Dow Jones Indices. The Committee will consult with the financial markets community as needed in order to keep the Methodology current and relevant.

MSCI and S&P Dow Jones Indices consider information about changes to the GICS Structure and related matters to be potentially price sensitive. Therefore, all Committee discussions are confidential.

*A company will be classified as a REIT, if it mentions in an official document that it operates as a REIT (as per the country's effective legal REIT structure). In general, to be classified as a REIT, a company must have a Property Trust Structure (either as a stand-alone trust or stapled), with primary investments in real estate or mortgage loans and where majority of the company's taxable Income is paid out as a dividend. If stapled, it should derive at least 60% of revenue from the trust arm. Asset holdings break down and net earnings are also considered while determining the GICS classification, in general.

Section 8: MSCI Fixed Income Sector Classification Guidelines

MSCI also leverages the Global Industry Classification Standard (GICS) to classify companies that have issued Fixed Income securities such as corporate bonds.

8.1 Fixed income universe eligible for classification

Corporates that have issued bonds are eligible for a classification.

Supranationals, Municipals and Sovereigns that have issued fixed income securities are currently not covered under this Methodology.

8.1.1 Classification of a company that has issued both equity and corporate bonds

Propagation of GICS from company level to security level

GICS is assigned at the company level and thus all securities, equities or corporate bonds, issued by the company will have the same GICS classification as the company.

MSCI leverages GICS assigned to a company that has issued equity securities and assigns the same GICS classification to the corporate bonds issued by the company.

Example: GICS of a corporate bond issued by General Electric

The corporate bond issued by General Electric will have the same GICS as assigned to General Electric.

GICS level	GICS code	GICS description
Sector	20	Industrials
Industry Group	2010	Capital Goods
Industry	201050	Industrial Conglomerates
Sub-Industry	20105010	Industrial Conglomerates

8.1.2 Classification of a company that has issued only corporate bonds

Each corporate bond issuer is assigned to a GICS Sub-Industry based on the GICS of its related listed entity, i.e., its parent company or ultimate parent company, as available in GICS Direct.

Example: GICS of corporate bond issued by Coca-Cola Refreshments USA Inc.

Coca-Cola Refreshments USA Inc.'s parent is Coca-Cola Co which is classified as "30201030 - Soft Drinks".

GICS of the corporate bond issued by Coca-Cola Refreshments USA Inc. will be:

GICS level	GICS code	GICS description
Sector	30	Consumer Staples
Industry Group	3020	Food, Beverage and Tobacco
Industry	302010	Beverages
Sub-Industry	30201030	Soft Drinks & Non-alcoholic Beverages

In cases where the related entities, i.e., its parent and ultimate parent company don't have GICS in GICS Direct, the corporate bond issuer will be classified based on its own or its related entities' underlying business using the GICS framework.

In addition, if the corporate bond issuer is a special purpose vehicle or a captive finance vehicle, it will be classified based on the business of its related entities as described in Section 3.

8.2 Source of information used for the GICS classification of fixed income

The primary source of information used to classify fixed income securities is the company's annual reports and accounts. Other sources include broker reports and other published research literature. In the case of a new issue, the classification will be determined based primarily on the description of the company's activities and pro forma results as given in the prospectus.

8.3 Maintenance of GICS for companies that have issued corporate bonds

8.3.1 Ongoing review

A company's Sub-Industry classification will be reviewed at least annually. It will also be reviewed when a significant corporate restructuring occurs. GICS reviews could also occur upon client request.

In order to provide a stable Sub-Industry classification, when reviewing a company's classification, changes will be minimized in the Sub-Industry classification to the extent possible by disregarding temporary fluctuations in the results of a company's different activities.

8.3.2 Impact of GICS structure review

All changes in the GICS Structure and definitions resulting from a Structure Review will be applicable to the classification of companies that have issued fixed income securities as well.

• The Information may include "Signals," defined as quantitative attributes or the product of methods or formulas that describe or are derived from calculations using historical data. Neither these Signals nor any description of historical data are intended to provide investment advice or a recommendation to make (or refrain from making) any investment decision or asset allocation and should not be relied upon as such. Signals are inherently backward-looking because of their use of historical data, and they are not intended to predict the future. The relevance, correlations and accuracy of Signals frequently will change materially.

• None of the Information constitutes an offer to sell (or a solicitation of an offer to buy), any security, financial product or other investment vehicle or any trading strategy.

It is not possible to invest directly in an index. Exposure to an asset class or trading strategy or other category represented by an index is only available through third party investable instruments (if any) based on that index. MSCI does not issue, sponsor, endorse, market, offer, review or otherwise express any opinion regarding any fund, ETF, derivative or other security, investment, financial product or trading strategy that is based on, linked to or seeks to provide an investment return related to the performance of any MSCI index (collectively, "Index Linked Investments"). MSCI makes no assurance that any Index Linked Investments will accurately track index performance or provide positive investment returns. MSCI Inc.
is not an investment adviser or fiduciary and MSCI makes no representation regarding the advisability of investing in any Index Linked Investments.

Index returns do not represent the results of actual trading of investible assets/securities. MSCI maintains and calculates indexes, but does not manage actual assets. The calculation of indexes and index returns may deviate from the stated methodology. Index returns do not reflect payment of any sales charges or fees an investor may pay to purchase the securities underlying the index or Index Linked Investments. The imposition of these fees and charges would cause the performance of an Index Linked Investment to be different than the MSCI index performance.

• The Information may contain back tested data. Back-tested performance is not actual performance, but is hypothetical. There are frequently material differences between back tested performance results and actual results subsequently achieved by any investment strategy.

• Constituents of MSCI equity indexes are listed companies, which are included in or excluded from the indexes according to the application of the relevant index methodologies. Accordingly, constituents in MSCI equity indexes may include MSCI Inc., clients of MSCI or suppliers to MSCI. Inclusion of a security within an MSCI index is not a recommendation by MSCI to buy, sell, or hold such security, nor is it considered to be investment advice.

• MSCI receives compensation in connection with licensing its indexes to third parties. MSCI Inc.'s revenue includes fees based on assets in Index Linked Investments. Information can be found in MSCI Inc.'s company filings on the Investor Relations section of msci.com.
